

www.usatoday.com

Life

SECTION D

Wednesday, April 30, 2008

Lifeline

For entertainment news as it happens,
visit the Lifeline Live blog at life.usatoday.com.

Mayer, Foo Fighters help recruit voters

Jack Johnson, John Mayer, Foo Fighters and Meg deth are among artists who have joined forces with non-partisan voter registration group HeadCount (HeadCount.org) to sign up new voters at their concerts. My Morning Jacket, Santana, Wilco, Ani I Franco and The Decemberists are also participating. HeadCount's army of volunteers will stage voter registration drives at more than 1,000 concerts this year with a goal of registering at least 100,000 voters.